Vice President Leaves for Charleston to Attend 104th New England Anniversary Dinner Tomorrow.

VICE PRESIDENT COOLIDGE is leaving Washington this afternoon for Charleston, S. C., to attend the 104th anniversary dinner of the New England Society there tomorrow. He will return to Washington Wednesday. Mrs. Coolidge remained in Washington to receive their sons, John and Calvin Coolidge, on their arrival today from their school at Mercersburg, Pa.

The Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge will follow the long-established custom of their predecessors in the office and will receive officials informally on New Year day.

Mrs. Coolidge will hold her formal at home of the season on Wednesday, January 10, and on February 7.

With scarcely an exception Mrs. Hughes and other cabinet hostesses will observe the same Wednesdays at home.

Secretary and Mrs. Hughes To Give New Year Breakfast.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes will entertain the members of the diplomatic corps at breakfast New Year day in the Pan-American building, as is the custom of the Secretary of State. The breakfast will be served at 12:30 o'clock and the Secretary and Mrs. Hughes will, therefore, be in their home later in the afternoon.

Mrs. Hughes and the other ladies of the cabinet will receive members of the cabinet in the morning, from 3 to 6 o'clock in their homes.

The Secretary and Mrs. Hughes will be the guests of honor at this evening of the former United States ambassador to France and Mrs. Hugh C. Wallace.

The members of the cabinet and their wives will receive New Year day from 3 to 6 o'clock in their homes, as has been the custom for many years.

The ambassador of France and Mme. Jusserand had a small company luncheon with them at the embassy today in compliment to Mrs. David Franklin Houston, wife of the former Secretary of the Treasury.

The ambassador of Belgium and Baroness de Cartier entertained at dinner last evening, having as their guests the ambassador of Spain and Senora de Riano, the Speaker of the House, Mr. Frederick H. Gillett, the Secretary of the Hawaiian Legation and Mme. Nano. Mrs. Guy Norman, Mrs. John P. Wilkins, Mrs. Frederic A. Keep, Mr. Chandler Hale and Mr. William K. Richardson of Boston, who was the week-end guest of the ambassador and Baroness de Cartier.

The Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Fall accompanied by their son-in-law and daughter, and Mrs. C. C. Chase, will go to Virginia the end of this week to spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Brand and their son-in-law and daughter of the Secretary and Mrs. Fall.

Former minister of Bolivia and Senora de Calderon, accompanied by Senora Elena Cavour, will leave Washington tomorrow for New York, where they will be until December 28, when they will sail for their home in Bolivia.

Miss Beatrice Pitney, debutante daughter of Mr. Justice and Mrs. Mahlon Pitney, was the guest of honor at a luncheon today at the Helen Colbert, who was presented last season.

Miss Colbert's cousin, Mr. John J. Dolan, 24, who is a student at Princeton, will spend the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Colbert and will have as his guest for a few days his classmate, Mr. Charles Townsend of Philadelphia.

Miss Louise Goff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Despard Goff, is entertaining a company of thirty-five at bridge this afternoon, followed by tea.

Col. and Mrs. Morris Ernest Locke will entertain at dinner tonight. Tomorrow Mrs. Locke's son, Master James McMillan Gibbs, will arrive in Washington from his school in Southboro, Conn., to spend the Christmas holidays with his mother.

Miss Delphine Heyl will be hostess at dinner on Wednesday evening preceding the dance to be given at Rauscher's by Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kauffmann for their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hay Kauffmann. Miss Heyl will have as her guest of honor Miss Cecelia McCullum, whose marriage to Mr. Chauncey Parker, Jr., will take place at 4 o'clock, in St. John's Church, January 2.

Mrs. Joseph D. Wright and Miss Wright will entertain at dinner tonight in honor of Mrs. Wright's niece, Miss Dorothy Warren, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bates Warren. Covers will be laid for forty.

Mrs. Bandholtz, wife of Brig. Gen. H. H. Bandholtz, will be at home tomorrow afternoon at her home at Fort Myer.

Mr. Philip Hichborn of Concord, Mass., is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Philip Hichborn, at the Graton, and will remain for the holidays.

Miss Lucile Atcherson of Columbus, Ohio, the first woman to enter the diplomatic service, arrived in Washington this morning, and is stopping at the Lee House. Miss Atcherson will be attached to the State Department here for a short period before sailing for her foreign post. She will be the speaker at the "Ladies' night" of the University Club this evening.

Among the large affairs that will take place this evening, preceding the debut dance of Miss Louise Anderson, will be the supper dance, to be given to a company of about forty guests by Col. and Mrs. T. Q. Donaldson, in honor of Miss Emily Dial, debutante daughter of Senator and Mrs. Nathaniel B. Dial. Later in the evening the entire company will go to Rauscher's to meet Miss Anderson.

Mr. Cornelius V. Engert married in California.

Miss Sara Morrison Cunningham of San Francisco, Calif., became the bride of Mr. Cornelius Vanhemert Engert of Washington Saturday afternoon, the ceremony taking place in St. Luke's Episcopal Church on Van Ness avenue, with Bishop William Moreland of San Francisco officiating. Rev. Webster Jennings, rector of the church, officiating at the impressive service.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Louis F. Montague, an old family friend. She wore an exquisite gown of ivory satin, with an overskirt of Honiton lace, a square train falling from the shoulders. Her veil was of Honiton lace, laid in place with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and orchids.

The bride's two sisters were the only attendants, Mrs. Murry Sargent of New York, the former Miss Mary Cunningham, was the matron of honor, her frock being of pink tulle, made in medieval style, with a long skirt, very full and bouffant. She wore a silver hat, as did Miss Elizabeth Cunningham, the maid of honor, whose gown was of blue tulle, made after the same period. Both attendants carried bouquets of columbia roses and pink sweet peas.

Mr. Dolger Trowbridge was the best man, and the ushers were Mr. James Potter Langhorne, Jr.; Mr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Jr.; Mr. Parham P. Grith and Mr. Platt Kent. A buffet supper was served at the Fairmont Hotel.

On the conclusion of their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Engert will come to Washington, where Mr. Engert is now stationed, and this city will be their future home.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James Cunningham and the late Mr. Cunningham. She is a cousin of Miss Adelen and Miss Susan Hale Brewer, Mrs. Platt Kent, Mrs. Joseph A. Donohoe, Jr., and the Rev. William A. Brewer. She has had wide experience in Turkey and in the near east during the war, and afterward was secretary of the American Legation at The Hague and Thebes. He is now assistant to the chief of the near east division of the Department of State.

Mrs. Cunningham and her other daughters will leave California for the east today and remain for the rest of the winter.

Gov. Samuel R. McKelvie and Mrs. McKelvie of Nebraska are spending several days in Washington, and are at the Potomac.

Representative and Mrs. W. Turner Logan of South Carolina, who are spending the winter at the Portland, Me., are visiting former Sen. Senator and Mrs. N. B. Dial, Representative James F. Byrnes, Representative and Mrs. William F. Stevenson, Representative John J. McSwain and Representative Hampton Fulmer. After the dinner the company was entertained at the Logan apartment in the Portland.

Mrs. Marshall Field has returned to Washington and opened her home on 16th street for the winter. Mrs. Field has been visiting former Senator and Mrs. Albert J. Beveridge in their home in Indianapolis since leaving Chicago, where she spent the autumn. Mrs. Field entertained a small company informally at luncheon Saturday at Le Paradis.
